

Senior Food Program

The City of West Jordan Community Development Block Grant Program has partnered with local restaurants to provide meals to West Jordan residents aged 65 and over. The meals are delivered to the senior's home at no charge. Any West Jordan resident aged 65 and over is eligible for the program, but preference will be given to those in the low-to moderate- income categories as defined below.

Household Members	Annual Income Less Than	Annual Income Less Than	Annual Income Less Than	Annual Income Less Than

8	$36,500	$60,900	$73,080	$97,350

Current participating restaurants include Vegan Bowl, Dairy Queen, Papito Moe's, SpudToddos, and Sofia's Doner Kebab Express. The meals are delivered via Chefpanzee. We hope to bring on two additional restaurants soon. The restaurants will continue to provide meals until their contracted funding amounts are depleted. Some restaurants may expend their funds by the end of October while others may be in the program through January 14, 2022.

To participate, complete the application form and return it to Katie Johnson or Chloe Sturgill at West Jordan City Hall, 8000 S Redwood Road, 2nd Floor Development Department. When your application is accepted you will be given a menu to select which meals you would like delivered on which days. You may choose one meal per day, and you may choose to have meals delivered one to six days per week depending on your stated need or preference. A new menu will have to be filled out and returned to Katie or Chloe each week.

Meal orders are sent to the restaurants one week ahead of time so delivery will not start for one to two weeks after your application is submitted.

If you have any questions, please call or email Katie Johnson (801) 569-5183
